November 2017

Happy Thanksgiving, y'all! I can't wait to sit down at the table with family and friends and truly celebrate all that God has done this year! What a year it has been!

One of the most blessed things that has happened for us is the successful launch of The Keepers of Christian World Missions.* (Info about joining in column to right.) After trying for several years to find a way to involve others in our on-going outreach in the local community, and in fund-raising efforts for our international partners, the Lord led us to gather a group of friends to "keep" us on track.

Men and women alike have become Keepers. We cook and clean, create and decorate, build, serve, and even spend a little time laughing and dancing. This is a group of true friends with amazing servant hearts. Family, really, and so I'll be thanking God for them when we sit down at the table on Thanksgiving Day.

God has continually amazed us with the partners and colleagues He has brought to us. Across the globe, they are universally among the most stellar of leaders, young and old. A few years ago, I breathed a prayer that it might be time for me to start mentoring young people in ministry, and lo and behold, God has done it! Beginning with Brittany and Tiffany, who have both moved on to other pursuits, we have been amazed at the sweet, humble spirits these fantastic young adults possess, even as they excel in everything they put their hands to. I will certainly be thanking God for Maggie, Leah, Blake, and Sarah, along with all the amazing young people they lead during the week. Y'all bless me!
